Letter from the Prez...

Greetings!

I just got back from the October Snowball, and what a great party that was! Some of the costumes were wonderful and truly in the Woodstock spirit. We had over a hundred of people in attendance, and everyone seemed to have a groovy time. We closed out the Telluride trip, Vail is sold out, and we had to cancel the Winter Park trip, as we only had six participants to date and were facing a deadline, after which any cancellations would have been very costly to the Club. We have also announced the details of the Russia trip, which we hope to be opening at our November 20 happy hour at the Mayfair in Coconut Grove. We have had this trip 98% ready to go for over a month now, but are still awaiting some pricing from Russia on a few of our special features. As much as I have enjoyed Russia and the variety of things we will have on our trip, I must admit to finding the negotiating process very trying. I am left with the impression that the rigid bureaucratic process is very deeply ingrained in the culture and it will be a long time before that changes. This is one reason why taking a trip with the Club has definite advantages, as all negotiating and arranging is done well in advance and all the details are taken care of. All you have to do is to sign the trip application form and your check, and you are all set! Please take a look at page 7 and read more about this trip!

We are in our election year, with the Elections Committee looking for candidates for the next installment of the Executive Committee. If you know anyone who you think would make a good Treasurer, Secretary, Vice President or President, please contact Howard Margoluis at elections@miamiskiclub.net. Of course, if you would like to get involved yourself, please let us know! The applications for officers have to be in to the Elections Committee by December 1, so there are only a few weeks left! In February, we will be holding the official Elections Meeting at the 94th Aerosquadron on Friday, February 26. At that time, the slate of officers will be announced and we will open the meeting to nominations from the floor. In case we have multiple candidates for any one position, the Club will mail out ballots for our members to cast their vote. The elected officers will then take charge of the Club on June 1, 2010.

While on the subject of volunteers, I sometimes find it hard to contrast the great attendance at our events (60+ at the last happy hour, 100+ at the last Snowball). with the great lack of willingness of our membership to step up and help run this Club. In nearly every Newsletter, we publish a plea for volunteers or specific positions. Almost invariably, the response is a fat zero. I just hope for the sake of this Club that this will change. Would love to hear your thought!

Notices

We would like to congratulate Steve Honeycutt and Judy Hollins, who have tied the knot last month and thus became the Miami Ski Clubs newest married couple! Again, congratulations!

On a sad note, we have lost one of our long, long time members, Michelle Glennon, who passed away in October. She is survived by her husband Jerry, whom many of you will remember from our Indochina trip. Our deepest sympathies go out to Jerry and their family.

In another tragic event, our friend Eugene Villacian and his wife Maria lost their daughter Elizabeth, whom some of you will remember from our Snowbird trip where she was with her father and fiance. She was struck by a truck while cycle training for a charity triathlon to raise funds for the National Breast Cancer Foundation. The loss to the parents and to her husband is immeasurable, but you can help in continuing her cause by making a charitable donation to the Foundation. Simply log on to www.breastcancerfoundation.org and the web site will guide you through the process.

MIAMI SKI CLUB

MAY 18 - 31, 2010

This adventure will have us exploring Russia from Moscow to St. Petersburg, visiting towns and villages along the vast waterways, rivers and lakes connecting the two cities.

Once we arrive in Moscow, you will have the rest of the afternoon to unpack, settle into your cabin on the MS Tolstoy and clean up before dinner. We will have three full days to explore this vast city (sixth largest in the world) and its history. Naturally, one of the highlights will be a tour of the Kremlin, which will probably be a surprise to most. We think of it as the center of Soviet power, but "kremlin" in Russian simply means "fortress", and the Moscow Kremlin has been the center of Russian government for centuries. The vast complex contains palaces, cathedrals, churches and museums housing an incredible wealth of art and history. During our stay in Moscow, our tours will cover not only the museums, cathedrals and historical sites, but will have us exploring the fantastic subway stations, shopping areas and catching a show.

Once we leave Moscow, we will also leave behind the high energy cosmopolitan atmosphere of the city and settle into a more relaxed pace. At first, you will see private yachts, sailing clubs and beautiful luxury homes nestled into the wooded banks of the waterway. Slowly, these will give way to country homes and smaller villages with quaint churches, as we approach the town of Uglich. Here we will have an opportunity to split up and have breakfast in the homes of our Russian hosts, getting a glimpse of every-day life in this city. The churches and cathedral here paint the very picture of Russia you have envisioned, with brightly colored onion domes and interiors filled with Orthodox icons.

Our next stop will be Yaroslavl, which was settled in the 8th century by Finno-Ugric tribes and called Bear Corner. Its colorful history includes the Mongol-Tartar invasion of 1238; being the capital of Russia during the Polish invasion in 1598, and becoming a hub for Russia's wealthy merchants. It saw the construction of the country's first national theater and remained the region's cultural center, even after Peter the Great moved his capital to St. Petersburg and the city lost some of its importance. Our tours will focus on the historical sites of this quaint city with some time allocated to shopping in the expansive local market.

The following day will have us cruising through the beautifully wooded country side, with a stop in the town of Goritsy and the adjoining monastery of Kirillov. The Monastery was founded in 1379 on the shores of the White Lake and by the end of the 17th century became one of the largest and wealthiest religious and military centers in Russia. Consequently, the monastery was surrounded by fortified walls and twenty three towers, which still stand today. Our walking tour will also take us through one of the most impressive collections of religious icons in Russia.

The scenic journey through Russia will reach its northern-most point with our visit to the tiny village on the island of Kizhi. One of the over 1,300 islands in Lake Onega, Kizhi has a population of 64 inhabitants, and is so remote, that during the long winter months can be supplied only by helicopter. Despite it's remoteness, Kizhi could very well be the most fascinating stop on our thousand mile journey. The cluster of churches, farm houses and bath houses is constructed entirely of wood and presents a truly unspoiled picture of rural life in Russia, mostly unaffected by the passage of time. The highlight is the wooden Transfiguration Cathedral built in 1714, boasting twenty three cupolas which dominate the pastoral landscape.

Our journey will take us through the rugged scenery of Lake Onega, which at 10,000 square kilometers is the second largest lake in Europe. Fed by over fifty rivers and a thousand streams, it reaches depths of up to 400 ft and contains some of the purest water anywhere. It is drained only by one river - the Stir, which we will cruise on our way to the largest lake in Europe, Lake Ladoga, which is twice the size of Onega. The more than 650 islands make for impressive scenery as we make our way to the Neva river, which again is the only stream draining Lake Ladoga into the Gulf of Finland near St. Petersburg.

The last stop on our way to St. Petersburg is the village of Svirstroy. Far removed from the very modern Moscow, Svirstroy will give you a good insight into every day life in rural Russia, which has changed little since the Soviet era, barring the enterprising cluster of souvenir and local handicraft cottages. Here, you will be able to walk around the village and probably get invited into someone's home for tea or vodka.

As we approach St. Petersburg, the laid back feel of the countryside will start giving way to the suburbs of the city. With its seemingly endless canals and waterways, St. Petersburg has often been called the Venice of the North. Just as historically Moscow has been the political center, St. Petersburg is the cultural and intellectual hub. The wide boulevards, hundreds of palaces and churches will keep us busy for the next three days. Our tours will include a visit to the Winter Palace and the Hermitage, which is a must on everyone's travel list. The collection is so vast (somewhere around three million objects), that the time required to see the collection in its entirety is estimated from 9 to 11 years.

Part of our tour will be the beautifully maintained battle cruiser Aurora, which in 1917 fired the first shot at the Winter Palace, signaling the start of the Great Revolution. Most of our exploration will concentrate on the historical sites in and around St. Petersburg, including the magnificent cathedral of St. Isaac, Church on the Spilled Blood, Catherine's Palace, and a trip by hydrofoil to Peterhoff, famous for its beautiful parks and 176 elaborate fountains. Peterhoff contains several smaller palaces, some with a magnificent view of the Gulf of Finland, where the Russian navy lay at anchor in times of Peter the Great. However, with the rich gold ornamentation and the Grand Cascade, the Great Palace dominates this impressive complex of royal splendor. After visiting here, you will understand why Peterhoff is such a unique cultural gem. In the evenings, we will also try to squeeze in some cultural events to give us an even better appreciation of the things this magnificent city has to offer.

This trip will give us a great overview of this vast and diverse country, combined with the relaxation of cruising the beautiful countryside of Russia. Basically everything is included in our package: airfare, ground transportation, tours, admissions to museums and galleries and all the meals. As we know from previous experience, Lufthansa is a premier airline, and the MS Tolstoy is one of the best boats on this cruising circuit. Most of our tours are customized for our group and include many extras. As the ship will be our home-away-from-home for the entire duration of the trip, there is no packing and re-packing, so you will be able to settle in and enjoy this unique vacation.
